

Terms of Application

※ Before applying for entry, please read and agree to the following terms:

- Participants may not, for personal reasons, change/cancel race categories, transfer rights, or switch applicant names after submitting the application except where the race is designated for the yuzureru system.
- The organizer will not refund for excess payment, multiple payments, or multiple entries. Even if the payment of the participation fee is completed before the payment deadline, the application may be invalid depending on the payment date when there are applications exceeding the capacity. In that case, it will be refunded by the method defined by the organizer.
- In the case of an earthquake, storm, flooding, snow, or accident, the organizers will assess the situation and make a decision concerning scaling down or cancelling the race accordingly.
- Participants must pay attention to their physical conditions including heart disease and other illnesses and make appropriate preparations for the event. Entrants must participate in the event at their own risk with regard to diseases, accidents, and losses.
- The passage of emergency vehicles including ambulances may impede the progress of runners. If the organizers consider it necessary to discontinue the event, participants must immediately follow the instructions of the organizers and comply with any other instructions from the organizers with regard to safety management and operation of the event.
- Participants will indemnify the organizers from responsibility for any accidents, loss, or injuries arising during the event and will not claim any compensation for them.
- Participants will be compensated for any accidents or injuries arising during the event to the extent of the coverage of the insurance policy purchased by the organizers. The organizer will provide first aid in case of illness, other accidents, theft, or loss, but will not take any responsibilities for it. Participants will not hold the organizers liable for any treatment and progression of such disease or accident.
- Participants must obtain consent from the family, relatives, or the guardian (in case of minors), or the team member (in case of application in the name of the representative) about the entry of this competition.
- Participants are not allowed to make a false declaration in the application about age, sex, etc. or to transfer his/her entry to anyone else. If such dishonest acts are uncovered, participants must follow any decisions of the organizers, such as revocation of participation or award and disqualification of the subsequent sports events. The organizers shall bear no responsibility for aid or refund for those who make a false declaration or transfer his/her entry to anyone else.
- Some applications made over the Internet may not be successful due to the applicant's device, operating system, or Internet browser. The organizer shall bear no responsibility for any delayed application caused by a failure of the internet service, etc.
- The images, photographs, articles, records of the sports event (including entrants' personal information such as names, ages, sex, records, and figures) will be reported, posted, or used on newspapers, TV, magazines, Internet, brochures, etc. The organizers will hold the right of posting and using such information.
- The handling of personal information of the applicants shall be subject to the personal information policy of the organizers as stated separately.
- If there is any discrepancy between the provisions of this Application Terms and the race regulations, the race regulations shall prevail.
